This letter serves as a WELCOME to our 2012 Sourcebook and as a THANK YOU to all the humor beings who have attended our annual international conferences and workshops; ordered great books, DVD’s, and fun props from our HUMOResources bookstore; brought in our Speakers Bureau to deliver world-class presentations for your organizations, associations, and conventions; visited our www.HumorProject.com Web site; subscribed to our free Laughing Matters email newsletter; and expressed interest in our work and play in a variety of other ways.

The mission of The HUMOR Project is to make a positive difference in the world by helping people to get more smileage out of their lives and jobs. This is important, because as Joel says in his Laffirmations book (see page 8 in this Sourcebook), “Seven days without laughter makes one weak.” Indeed and in deed, humor can add years to your life… and life to your years!

Speaking of years… we are especially excited to celebrate in 2012 the 35th year for The HUMOR Project, the first organization in the world to focus fool-time on the positive power of humor. Our big celebration will take place on June 1-3, 2012 at our 55th international program at scenic Silver Bay Conference Center (see pages 11-23). This wonderful weekend features a special appearance by Peter Funt as we present him and Candid Camera with the National Humor Treasure Award. We are also delighted to honor Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords with the Survive AND Thrive Award.

Thanks again to all of you who have supported our fun-but-not-for-fun work over the decades and across the (s)miles! We salute-with-a-smile all of you who will connect with our services, programs, and resources in 2012!

Jest wishes,

Joel & Margie

Dr. Joel Goodman
Founder & Director, The HUMOR Project, Inc.
Margie Ingram
Co-Director

P.S. The HUMOR Project will be relying more and more on communicating with you via email and our Web site and less and less via printed mailings. Be sure to see the top of the back cover if you want to keep in touch with fast-breaking humor news, tips, services, programs, and resources.

Humor-Wise and Humor Why’s

Since 1977, The HUMOR Project has been “taking humor seriously.” Here is some food for thought to make you “Humor-Wise”— why you and your organization might want to take humor seriously, too…

1. The funny line and the bottom line intersect! In a survey of 737 CEO’s, over 98% of them indicated they would much rather hire somebody with a good sense of humor than somebody without one. You can take your job seriously… and yourself lightly.

2. Jest for the health of it! Laughter enhances respiration and circulation, oxygenates the blood, suppresses the stress-related hormones in the brain, and activates the immune system. Indeed, laughter is the jest medicine.

3. Humor as an antidote to stress: Humor can help us move from a “grim and bear it” mentality to a “grin and share it” orientation. By using humor, you can prevent a “hardening of the attitudes,” which can help you add years to your life and life to your years.

4. “A smile is the shortest distance between two people,” according to Victor Borge. Humor can be a magnet to attract people, to build positive working relationships, and to improve morale and teamwork.

5. The HAHA-AHA connection: There definitely is a connection between humor and creativity. Humor can jump-start your creativity and give you the energy to think (and laugh) outside the box.

6. The laughing-learning link: Humor can be a powerful (and delightful) way to capture and maintain attention and free up tension… which means that retention increases.

7. Your Resilience Quotient: Norman Cousins’ best-selling book, Anatomy of an Illness, certainly opened up many people’s eyes to the notion that “S/He who laughs lasts.” With humor, you can build resilience and get more smileage out of your life and work.

8. Humor as a saving (and amusing) grace for the planet: As our world gets proverbially smaller all the time, humor could help build important bridges between countries and cultures. As Erma Bombeck once said, “When humor goes, there goes civilization!”

Your recent keynote address was a tremendous success and scored the highest of the keynote events at the conference! After reading 42 pages of written comments—there is no doubt that your event received the highest praise. When we originally spoke, we gave you a tall order to deliver—tie up the entire conference and send the audience home filled with practical, inspiring ideas. You certainly delivered that and more. And we had fun along the way! American Management Association national conference

WOW!! Did you make us look brilliant!!! We are getting raves that just do not stop about having you as a speaker!!! A terrific message, a fabulous, incredible balance of warm, refreshing, and enchanting humor with your profound and thought-provoking messages. Your program received the highest rating of all our sessions!! Thank you from the bottom of our hearts!!

New York State Education Department

I can't begin to express my thanks to you for the luncheon presentation you gave. Never before have I received so much positive feedback on any speaker! You certainly drew the numbers, which is always a benefit for ESSAE!!

Empire State Society of Association Executives

This conference exceeded the expectations of the more than 300 people who attended. Your ability to hold the attention of so many people for such a long period and to impart valuable information while entertaining is truly remarkable. Thanks also for your cooperation, understanding, and good humor throughout the year-long planning process. University of North Carolina at Asheville

I wanted to express appreciation for the fine job you did as a keynote speaker at our national conference. For the 1500 attendees to attend a General Session at 8:00 on a Monday morning and give a standing ovation to the speaker is an obvious compliment to you. National Association of Case Management

We've heard so many great comments about your presentation. I specifically appreciated how you personalized your message to connect with everyday events and terminology used at Clorox. To ensure we find ways of bringing humor to work, we have ordered your Laffirmations: 1,001 Ways to Add Humor to Your Life and Work to distribute to all the meeting participants. The Clorox Company

Your closing keynote certainly captivated the audience with your energy and humor and left them wanting more. The marks for your session on the evaluations are off the chart! We had no idea you would invoke an explosive standing ovation! U.S. Department of Labor

As the coordinator of a leadership conference for medical personnel of sixteen hospitals in the midwest, I recommend you with enthusiasm! You received overwhelming, positive evaluations from the participants. Your material is substantive and your presentation style dynamically alive. Mercycare Corporation

I can easily see why so many people pricked up their ears in avid interest when I mentioned your name. Your lively manner and comforting spirit are infectious and personally, I'd like to see a lot more people get infected. The comments I heard as people left were unanimously positive to glowing. We had a great turnout and a great program. New York Library Association

During the International Creativity Conference in Africa, your leading keynote address was hailed by all attendees as the perfect medicine for people in dramatic transformation. Your content, style, and approach build bridges between many cultures. I salute you as a splendid presenter and international humor and creativity leader. Satori Creativity Foundation of South Africa

The audience LOVED you and gave fantastic evaluations! Using humor for the first general session put the 2000+ professional counselors in a great frame of mind! Texas Counseling Association

Your presentation was a resounding success. I continue to be the recipient of an overwhelming amount of positive feedback and appreciation. As the organizer, nothing could be more gratifying. Saskatchewan Association of Optometrists

The buzz around campus following your workshop was so loud that I had to take a week of vacation. Florida was great, but what was even better was coming back and hearing people still talking about using humor and creativity in their work. My prior experiences with The HUMOR Project made me confident that we were doing the right thing by having you speak... thanks for proving us right! James Madison University

For more information on arranging a program for your organization, corporation, association, or convention, contact the Speakers Bureau at 518-587-8770.
Dr. Joel Goodman, founder and Director of The HUMOR Project, is a popular speaker whose programs have tickled and touched the lives of millions in all 50 states and countries on all 7 continents (Antarctica, Argentina, Australia, Panama, Japan, Taiwan, Russia, Norway, Sweden, England, Germany, South Africa, North Dakota, and funny places in between).

Dr. Goodman has authored eight jest-selling books (including Laffirmations: 1,001 Ways to Add Humor to Your Life and Work). He also has edited the LAUGHING MATTERS magazine, generating rave reviews from thousands of people throughout the U.S. and 20 other countries.

Joel has been a pioneer focusing on the positive power of humor and creativity. His work has been featured in over 7000 TV and radio shows, newspapers, and magazines in 175+ countries, including: The TODAY Show, The Daily Show with Jon Stewart, PBS, BBC, Latenight America, All Things Considered, the front page of The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, USA Today, Reader's Digest, Successful Meetings, Journal of the American Medical Association, and many AP national features. Joel’s unique calling was also featured on an ABC NEWS prime-time special on The Mystery of Happiness that aired nationally three times.

Described as “the first full-time humor educator in the world,” Joel founded The HUMOR Project in 1977 (two years before Norman Cousins’ best-selling book was published). Joel was delighted to join Willard Scott and Meadowlark Lemon in receiving the prestigious International Lifetime of Laughter Award. He also has been honored by the Business Review as the Business Person of the Year and was the first recipient of the International Punster of the Year Award (but don’t hold that against him).

Joel founded AHA!, the American Humor Association, which includes over 165,000 humor conspirators. He believes that it is important for business to “do well and do good” at the same time: The HUMOR Project has provided grants to 475+ schools, hospitals, and human service agencies to help them develop services and resources that tap the positive power of humor.

Joel takes his work very seriously and he takes himself very lightly as he helps people to get more smileage out of their lives and jobs. His own most important mentors when it comes to humor are his 30-year-old son, Adam, his 26-year-old daughter, Alyssa, and his young-at-heart wife, Margie. Speaking of whom...

Margie Ingram, Co-Director of The HUMOR Project, is one of the pioneers in the fields of stress management and the humor-resilience connection. Margie is a popular speaker and workshop leader throughout the U.S. and abroad. She is also a very successful life coach helping individuals and small groups to create fulfilling lives, move gracefully through life transitions, identify and build on personal and professional strengths, and overcome obstacles by optimizing optimism with a touch of humor (see page 7).

Margie has been an educator for the past 44 years. A public school teacher from 1968-1975, she went on to supervise student teachers and teach grad courses at many colleges on effective teaching methods and developing effective classroom environments. Margie’s speaking career, which began 39 years ago, grew out of her love of teaching. Her programs are lively, engaging, and practical as she creates opportunities for participants to apply the content to their immediate lives and jobs.

Margie has also served as coordinator of The HUMOR Project’s international conferences on “The Positive Power of Humor, Hope and Healing” and international workshops on “HUMOResilience: Tickling Stress Before It Tackles You,” which have attracted 23,000+ people from all 50 states, 6 continents, and the Moon (Moonwalking astronaut Dr. Edgar Mitchell).

Margie was honored with the Distinguished Service Award from the Reed Foundation and the Prevention Council as well as the Hometown Hero Award. In her spare time, Margie loves kayaking, walking, completing challenging puzzles, and spending time with family and good friends. She practices what she teaches about creating intentional balance in life.
ASSOCIATED PRESS NATIONAL FEATURE: Good Humor Man
Did you hear the one about the business consultant who turned a hunch about humor into a business? His name is Joel Goodman. The HUMOR Project has become a driving force behind the explosion of humor seminars and workshops. Goodman is the guru of the humor-training movement.

DONAHUE
The HUMOR Project brings us the awareness that smiling and humor can heal us. Yours is a therapeutic undertaking. The HUMOR Project was established in 1977, two years before Norman Cousins’ book.

THE SARATOGIAN: Editorial
It’s no joke. Humor is a serious business. Just ask Saratoga Springs resident Joel Goodman. Goodman has written and edited books and articles about humor, founded LAUGHING MATTERS magazine, and has been a speaker and workshop leader for conferences and training programs worldwide.

THE NEW YORK TIMES SUNDAY MAGAZINE: Humor Me
I recently called Joel Goodman, who has conducted humor seminars for I.B.M., the C.I.A., the F.B.I., and the I.R.S. Having been audited by the I.R.S., I can speak with some authority: this is a funny, funny group of people.

SARATOGA LIVING MAGAZINE: Laugh Doctor Prescribes Wit for 35 Years!
Past speakers and honorees at Goodman and Ingram’s annual conference have included Steve Allen, Sid Caesar, Victor Borge, Gilda Radner, David Hyde Pierce, Jay Leno, Art Buchwald, Al Roker, Bob Newhart, Soupy Sales, the Smothers Brothers, and more.

USA TODAY: Happy Employees Are More Productive
No one takes humor more seriously than Joel Goodman, who founded The HUMOR Project 35 years ago to promote the power of humor and creativity.

SYDNEY MORNING HERALD (Australia):
Haha, Hoho, It’s Off to Work We Go
American author Joel Goodman, the summit’s keynote speaker, is known as the world’s first full-time humour educator. Dr. Goodman said, “Having a child-like perspective actually could be a mature adult coping mechanism.”

CBS THIS MORNING
This is the story of one consultant who is laughing just about everywhere he goes. At his annual humor conference, Goodman puts on a comic full-court press. But it’s not just fun and games.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL: Front Page
Laughter is big business as companies are increasingly hiring humor consultants to help reduce employee stress and burnout. “Everyone uses the expression ‘Someday we’ll laugh about this.’ Why wait?” says Joel Goodman.

JOHN STOSSEL ON ABC NEWS: The Mystery of Happiness
Goodman is called a “humor consultant.” Companies pay him to teach workers how to lighten up. They’ve found that improves morale and productivity. Goodman’s clients believe!

Laffirmations: 1,001 Ways to Add Humor to Your Life and Work by Joel Goodman

Joel believes that “Seven days without laughter make one weak.” With this in mind, he delivers 366 days of more than 1,001 to jump-start your sense of humor. Each day of the year includes a thought-provoking quote, a question, along with a practical, non-intrusive humor tip designed to help you get more smileage out of your life and work. This portable, handy book also includes special guest appearances from the affable/laffable cartoon character, Ziggy®. The rich collection of quotes comes from the wit and wisdom of Bill Cosby, Lily Tomlin, Jerry Seinfeld, Carol Burnett, Charlie Chaplin, etc. The questions are designed to help you discover where humor already exists in your life and where you need to add a dash. The humor tips are drawn from the 2,000,000-plus participants in Dr. Goodman’s programs, and will help increase your Humor Quotient both in your personal life and on the job. With this timely and timeless book, you will be grinning from year to year.

Pat Paulsen: “If elected President of the United States, one of my first acts would be to appoint Joel Goodman as Secretary of Humor. But until that time, I would highly recommend that you buy this book!”

Steve Allen: “I applaud Joel Goodman’s pioneering work on the positive power of humor. Laffirmations will give you—or someone you care about—the gift of humor.”

Too Much of a Good Thing Is Wonderful: Women, Men, Laughter, and Connection with Dr. Regina Barreca
Gina’s hilarious keynote speech generated a prolonged standing ovation! You are in for a thought-provoking, LOL (laugh-out-loud) hour! As Gina reveals, humor is more than a tool for survival—at its best, it becomes an act of redemption. Humor allows us to redeem moments that might otherwise have been lost to pain, despair, fear, loneliness or loss. Laughter is the most human of activities… it’s one of the few things people do that animals do not (the other activities that animals do perform include applying artificial fingernails and singing out loud to Aretha Franklin’s Respect on the car radio).

CONFERENCE: An Uplifting Experience

NOW! The Time Is Right: Join Us on June 1-3, 2012…

for our learning-chocked, laughter-charged, life-changing 55th international conference. Steve Martin recently observed, “Even in tough times you can afford to laugh.” Especially in tough times, you need to FUN for your life! We encourage you to invest in jest… and to invest in yourself. So many people have told us that now, more than ever, we need the positive power of humor and creativity to help us Survive AND Thrive… the theme of our 2012 conference.

POW! Why You Should “Jest Do It!”

What's in it for you? Here is a taste:
- You will come away with POWERful ideas and skills that will benefit you personally and on-the-job.
- You will laugh a lot, POWER up, and recharge your personal batteries.
- You will experience POWERful world-class speakers and lots of emPOWERing sessions.
- This is the best place for you to POW-WOW and connect with kindred spirits (23,000+ people from all walks of life have attended from all 50 states, Canada, and 6 continents).
- See page 13 for more reasons to register.

WOW! Silver Bay Conference Center

This 700-acre National Historic Site with 65 buildings on the shores of majestic Lake George (“The Queen of American Lakes”) is an invigorating, inspiring, scenic setting where the mountains cascade into the lake. Jest an hour north of Saratoga Springs, NY, Silver Bay offers HUMORenewal, HUMORelaxation, and HUMORejuvenation with lake cruises, canoeing, kayaking, swimming, tennis, volleyball, shuffleboard, horseshoes, mountain hikes, yoga studio, peaceful porches to just “hang out,” and lots more! See www.SilverBay.org.

Save Dollars and Sense (of Humor)

- The conference tuition has been frozen at the same level for 10 years.
- Pay 50% when you register on-line by April 17 (balance charged 30 days later).
- Reduced room and board rates just for our attendees.
- Save $ with Silver Bay's roommate-matching service.
- Special BONUS for conference alumni and newcomers (see top of page 22).
- Travel Discounts (see bottom of page 22).
- 10% group discount for conference alumni and 2 or more conference newcomers who register together... or 3 or more newcomers who register together. Please call to register.
- Limited number of partial scholarships.
- 50% tuition discount for your kids/grandkids (ages 15-40) when they register with you. Call to register.

WHAT? WHY? WHEN? HOW?

What Is So Special About 2012?: This Is The Year for You to Attend!

- A once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to honor Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords who personifies “Survive AND Thrive.”
- A FUNTastic chance to honor and enjoy Candid Camera and Peter Funt.
- Ride the mirth momentum as we springboard off the success of our 2011 conference—the highest-rated one ever! On a 1-5 scale (with 5 being the highest), we received a remarkable number of “10s”!
- You never know who is going to show up at our conference. Here are some folks who joined us in the past couple years (Elvis even came back to sing with rescued Chilean miner Edison Peña):
Here is a taste of rave reviews from participants in our conference at Silver Bay. For hundreds more, go to www.humorproject.com/conference/people say.php

A fabulous battery charge to renew spirit, hope, and hilarity in your life. The conference jump-started my joy quotient
(Lucie Arnaz)

I continue to rave about the fantastic weekend of workshops and keynote speakers! I now know why it is so successful year after year. I came away a totally new “me” with a much happier attitude and permission to laugh!
(Barbara-Lee Hayes)

I have been to many conferences. This is by far the BEST one I’ve ever been to in EVERY way! What an absolutely spectacular place this is... and what an absolutely, positively, wonderful time I had here.
(Caren Kolerski)

Summer camp for adults. It was easy to come by myself and quickly connect with other kindred spirits. This was a wonderful opportunity to refresh my spirit.
(Amy Swisher)

This was the most enjoyable weekend I’ve had in a long time. A huge benefit to this conference is the nationally acclaimed keynote speakers. I feel like I have met someone famous who took the time to be gracious with me. The speakers were very accessible to us.
(Wendy Stephens)

This is my fourth conference and each year brings new treasures for my life. A must for all who live on our planet... or elsewhere.
(Nancy Moskowitz)

Thank you SO much for providing such wonderful learning and growth opportunities—and from such a wonderful variety of presenters!! It’s such a miracle and blessing that something like this exists. The chance to meet so many people from so many places and learn from each other and laugh with each other... it heals my spirit.
(Cindy Petker)

Everything was more than expected... again. I learned so much, met so many people, and renewed my spirit. Coming to your conference is a gift I give to myself—a chance to refuel.
(Lonna Moline)

The conference had it all—something for the mind, body, and spirit—absolutely the best one that I have ever attended and I consider myself a conference/learning junkie!
(Gail Bean)

As a first-time participant, I wasn’t sure what to expect. After three days, I’ve realized it was bigger AND better than anything I could ever imagine. Thanks for the memories and giving me tools to take home and put into action in my everyday life.
(Jenny Holmes)

The program at Silver Bay has breathtaking blue sky, breathtaking ideas, breathtaking laughter, and eureka moments.
(Al Clemens)

I had a fabulous time! I learned more useful tools to take home and apply immediately. I can’t wait to come back and bring my friends!
(Renee Cohn-Jones)

This conference was an opportunity to laugh with hundreds of soon-to-be friends. The humor conference is a must-reprieve from day-to-day stresses.
(Kevin Haynes)

I loved seeing my mother enjoy this conference as a first-time attendee at age 91. I am always amazed at the high level of speakers and presenters.
(Sue Pearlman)

This is an INCREDIBLY well-run conference. I am so inspired—just what the doctor ordered at the end of my school year!
(Alice Leeds)

This was far and away the best conference, educational and motivational experience I have had since the last time I attended.
(Stan Jones)
To Your Health!: Take Good Care of Yourself and Others in Pursuit of Happiness and Humor: Margie Ingram (see bio & photo on pages 2 and 6).

Recent research in neuroscience suggests that we can harness the brain's power to achieve optimal well-being and help others do the same. This highly interactive and fun skillshop will offer positive, powerful, productive, playful, and profound processes to: identify what brings you pleasure, what fully engages you, and what stimulates your purpose and passion in life. In a supportive atmosphere, you'll have a chance to build these health-giving forces into your life on a daily basis. You'll also have an opportunity to focus on the key concepts of healthy and effective caregiving—how to best support those for whom you care and how to keep yourself going for the long haul. You'll come away with a care package full of practical strategies for healthy living, compassionate caregiving, activating your sense of humor, building your HUMOResilience, tickling stress, and inviting HAHA (Healthy Aging Humorous Aging).

Have you ever wanted to perform stand-up comedy? Have you thought about it but don’t think you have anything funny to say or don’t know how to get started? Would you like to nurture your ability to create positive humor that you can add to your life, work and/or presentations? Are you up for surprising yourself with your ability to create and perform humor? If so, you've come to the light place! In this fun, participatory, outstanding stand-up workshop, you will learn: the “Rules” of comedy (Rule of 3, Rule of 9, IITWEIT), stand-up terminology and techniques, stand-up styles (e.g., one-liner, storytelling, observational), how to find and write your own humor, and more! Each participant will have time to write 1-2 minutes of material and (if you'd like) perform in front of a very warm and encouraging group...so that you can give the performance of a laughtime.

Improv to Improve Your Life: How Improv Can Make You More Effective at Everything: Kat Koppett (see bio & photo on page 17).

Improvisers make stuff up, collaboratively, on-the-spot with no pre-planning or knowledge of what will happen next. Sound familiar? In fact, this is what people do all the time, right? Who wakes up to find a script for the day on their bedside stand? In order to succeed at their daunting challenge, improvisers have developed philosophies and practical, powerful techniques that are applicable to any situation in which humans wish to interact creatively and collaboratively. Do you want to feel calmer? More powerful? More flexible? More popular? More understanding? More inventive? Improv may be the key to unleashing your untapped reserves of imagination, strength, and creativity. Find out how wonderful you can be in this highly-interactive, supportive, and way-fun workshop that will help you to integrate impactful improv skills and attitudes into every day of your life.

Speaking, Teaching, Facilitating, and Leading with Ease (and E's): Exercises to Enliven, Enlighten, Energize, Entertain, Engage, Educate: Dr. Jim Cain (see bio & photo on page 17).

Join this team-building guru for a full day of his very best, favorite, and newest team and community-building activities from around the world. This active workshop will share dozens of simple and powerful exercises that you can use, adapt, and apply in classrooms, meetings, and groups that you teach, lead, and facilitate. From painless icebreakers to large and small group activities, from leadership tips to creative debriefing techniques, this single workshop will share the best practices and a wide variety of activities that address such topics as: leadership, creative problem solving, communication, group building, trust, collaboration, and teamwork. This program will also include an introduction to one of the most unique team building tools, known as a Raccoon Circle—you'll learn how you can use this simple tool to lead over 200 activities—with only a single piece of rope.

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

5:00-6:00 PM  Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions (see page 21)
5:30-8:00 PM  Dining Hall Open for Dinner
7:30-9:30 PM  Conference Welcome/Overview: Humor and Creativity—Survive AND Thrive: Dr. Joel Goodman (Founder and Director of The HUMOR Project), Margie Ingram (Conference Coordinator).

Keynote: Smile! You’re on Candid Camera!: Peter Funt. America’s first and longest-running “reality show” has appeared on TV in every decade since the 1940’s. Allen Funt launched Candid Microphone in 1947 and brought it to television the following year. Peter Funt took over in the mid-1980’s and produced and hosted over 200 network episodes.

By featuring people “caught in the act of being themselves,” as the show’s slogan has it, “laughter’s on its way.” Candid Camera has come into our living rooms for decades to help us practice the art of taking ourselves less seriously. In addition to the smiles, the series has offered intriguing glimpses of human nature.

This evening will provide the opportunity for us to re-live (and re-laugh) those thrilling days of yesteryear as Peter draws from the vast Candid Camera collection of clips that range from inspiring to hilarious. He will present a laugh-filled and touching Candid Camera medley that looks at how the series began... caught on... and endured as an American tradition. It’s become such a part of the culture that for decades, almost everyone could complete the mantra, “Smile, you’re on __________ ________!”

Peter will also talk about Laughter Therapy, the project started by his father, Allen Funt, 30 years ago to provide special Candid Camera clips to critically ill people... with surprisingly effective results. Having honored Norman Cousins at our conference a couple years ago, we know how he prescribed Candid Camera to himself to help recover from his painful, debilitating illness.

In addition to appearing in hundreds of Candid Camera sequences over the decades, Peter Funt is a feature writer and syndicated columnist who also spent five years as an editor and reporter with ABC News. Peter actually made his first appearance on Candid Camera when he and the legendary series were each just three years old.

To be candid, after his keynote, we look forward to putting a smile on Peter’s face as we present him and Candid Camera with the National Humor Treasure Award— to thank them for embracing the inherently humorous human condition.

9:30-11:00 PM  Up-Close-and-Personal Autographing with Peter Funt, Photo Op with SmileMonster and Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions (see page 21)

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 2012

7:00-8:00 AM  Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions (see page 21)
7:30-8:45 AM  Breakfast Together with Food for Thought about Best/Jest Practices
8:45-10:15 AM  Wonderful Warm-Up, Wake-Up, Welcome to the Day

International Survive AND Thrive Award: Presented to Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords. We were delighted to receive confirmation from Pia Carusone, Chief of Staff for Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords, for us to honor Gabby with the Survive AND Thrive Award at this year’s conference. Gabby was seriously wounded at a Congress on Your Corner event in Tucson on January 8, 2011. She is currently undergoing rehabilitation at a Houston hospital. We are hoping that Gabby will be with us in person and hope that her amazing, against-all-odds recovery continues. We are honoring her because she personifies “Survive AND Thrive” and reminds us of the power of true grit, the importance of a sense of humor, the patience and faith needed to overcome unimaginable obstacles, and the transcendence of love. As her husband observed, “With Gabby, the sky is not the limit.” What an inspiration!

Keynote: The Most Inspirational Stories and People of Our Time: Jeff Zaslow.
Springboarding off the best-selling books he has co-authored with some of the most inspiring people of our time (including Gabby Giffords), Jeff has crafted his experiences into an incredibly uplifting presentation that is hugely entertaining and extremely moving. Many groups and conference organizers anoint Jeff as “the best speaker they’ve ever booked.” This presentation unfolds with Jeff’s terrific brand of humor balanced with a great deal of heart as he weaves together stories and insights from his best-selling books and his popular column in The Wall Street Journal. You are in for a humor-felt and heart-felt experience as you meet, up-close-and-personal through Jeff, some of the most inspiring people of our time.

Jeffrey Zaslow first worked as a columnist at The Wall Street Journal from 1983-1987, when he wrote about a competition to replace Ann Landers in the Chicago Sun-Times. He entered to get an angle for his story and ended up winning the job over 12,000 other applicants. Recipient of the Will Rogers Humanitarian Award, Jeff is a remarkably prolific and successful author. He served as co-author with Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords and her husband, retired astronaut Mark Kelly, on their recently-released memoir, GABBY: A Story of Hope and Courage. He collaborated with USAirways Capt. “Sully” Sullenberger, hero of the Hudson River landing, on his memoir, HIGHEST DUTY. Jeff also co-authored The Last Lecture with the late professor Randy Pausch, a book that became a worldwide phenomenon. Now translated into 48 languages, The Last Lecture has sold 5 million copies in English alone and has been a #1 international best-seller. Jeff’s latest book has just been released— The Magic Room: A Story About the Love We Wish for Our Daughters. The Washington Post encapsulates Jeff’s work and impact: “You want heart, you go to Jeff Zaslow… Books like Zaslow’s reflect our hopes for the world we want to live in.”

10:15-10:45 AM You Deserve a Coffee, Juice, and Tea-Hee Break Today

10:45-Noon Concurrent Sessions: Round One: Please indicate on the registration form on page 23 your first choice to attend from the following 6 sessions:

1 Humor 101: Taking Serious Things Humorously and Humor Seriously: Dr. Joel Goodman (see bio & photo on pages 2 and 6). Back by popular demand, this FUNomenal session offers workable wit and wisdom to help you: (1) Focus on the nature of humor through the brilliant Steve Allen Principle for finding fun寻求ing smiles in otherwise serious reality; (2) Understand how humor can enrich (and save) your life (potent personal, interpersonal, and professional payoffs); (3) Nurture your own and others’ senses of humor by knowing the difference between tonic humor and toxic humor and by playfully practicing the art of laughing at yourself. Using a delightful blend of examples and energizers, this fast-paced, fun-filled session by the founder of The HUMOR Project is the best overview of the humor field for health care and helping professionals, educators, speakers, trainers, businesspeople, and first-timers at the conference.

2 This Is Your Brain on Humor: Put Your Mind to Using Therapeutic Humor: David Weiland, M.D. We have all heard the expression, “Laughter is the best medicine.” Research over the past five decades backs up this common sense (of humor) notion. This thought-provoking, mind-stimulating session will address: how humor and laughter activate various regions of the brain, cutting-edge research on neural stimulation to change brain function, how humor can improve memory and promote new neural growth known as plasticity, non-pharmacologic approaches in dealing with Alzheimer’s challenges, and how humor therapy can impact degenerative changes associated with neurocognitive decline.

David Weiland, M.D., serves as a hospital Vice President of Medical Affairs and Director of Medical Education. In the past, he has been involved in Emergency Medicine, Internal Medicine, and Family Medicine and has served as Medical Director at a hospice program. Dave has done numerous clinical presentations nationally and on cruises, including ones on “Healing Power of Humor,” “Alzheimer’s Disease: Recognition and Treatment,” “Spirituality in Healthcare,” and “Palliative Pain Management.” Board certified in Internal Medicine, Hospice & Palliative Medicine, and a member of AOA Honor Medical Society, Dave was pleased to be included in “Best Doctors in America” and highlighted by U.S. News and World Report in 2011 in its issue on “Best Doctors.”
3 Spontaneous Combustion Creativity: Improv Skills to Enlighten and Light Up Your Life: Kat Koppett. The art of improvisation is a vital set of attitudes and life skills for the 21st Century. Individuals who are not creative and organizations that are not innovative will be left behind. Here's your chance to work with and play with key improv principles of mental flexibility, trust, spontaneity, listening, and accepting and building on others’ ideas—all of which will help to jump-start your own creativity. You’ll learn how to get out of your own (creative) way and get your creative juices flowing by moving from “Yes, but…” to “Yes, and…” in life and at work.

Kat Koppett is the eponymous founder of Koppett & Co., a training and consulting company specializing in the use of theatre and storytelling. Her book, Training to Imagine: Practical Improvisational Theatre Techniques to Enhance Creativity, Teamwork, Leadership and Learning, is now in its second edition (jest in time for our conference). Kat has worked with corporations, teachers, administrators, doctors, engineers, lawyers, and young people everywhere from India, Brazil, and France to Oklahoma. With a Masters in Organizational Psychology from Columbia University, her areas of specialty include leadership and communication skills, creativity and innovation, teamwork and conflict resolution, and presentation coaching. Kat is also the Co-Director of the funtastic Mop & Bucket improv troupe. FYI... Kat makes a mean banana cream pie!

4 How to Make Every Moment a Teachable Moment Through Experiential Learning in Classrooms, Meetings, and Groups: Dr. Jim Cain. People learn better when they are active, not passive learners. That’s the big payoff from experiential learning: people learn best when they have guided invitations to discover things themselves. Learning by doing is the trick to help the learning stick. This session is filled with attention-grabbing, retention-nabbing activities and ideas for making learning active, engaging, memorable, effective, and fun! You’ll take away creative presentation techniques that invite three primary forms of learning (auditory, visual, kinesthetic) and that tap into multiple intelligences. There will be lots of food for thought on how this smorgasbord of activities can be modified to explore different subjects, themes, and teachable moments.

Jim Cain, Ph.D., is the founder and creative force behind Teamwork & Teamplay. Through this active-learning company, Jim has delivered over 1500 presentations in 47 states and 23 countries in the past 15 years (including a team-building program for the NASA Lunar-Mars extended missions project). He is also the author of eight books (so far) on team and community-building activities—Teamwork & Teamplay received the Creativity Award presented by the Association for Experiential Education. With two Masters and a Doctorate in Mechanical Engineering, Jim also served as Senior Development Engineer at Eastman Kodak for 15 years. In addition to being a third-generation square dance caller and musician (guitar and mandolin), Jim also makes and throws boomerangs (and catches them, too!).

5 Funny Business ROI: The Funny Line and Bottom Line Intersect: Andrew Tarvin. Contrary to popular belief, in the workplace, humor is a must-have skill, not a nice-to-have-if-we-had-the-time commodity. Here’s a chance to see the ways that humor can improve productivity—for you and your organization. You will laugh while learning: how to leverage the power of levity to become a better leader, manager, and employee; the ability of humor to transform your work and organization; how to avoid humor pitfalls; and actionable steps to make humor a systematic part of your workplace to realize better results by increasing efficiency and effectiveness. In short, to achieve positive ROI (Return on Investment), invest in jest.

Andrew Tarvin is a corporate humorist, author, and comedian. As Chief Humorist of Humor That Works, Andrew has worked with many organizations on such topics as humor in the workplace, communication, relationships, problem solving, productivity, strategic disengagement, and leadership. He also has had “day jobs” as Customer Solutions and Initiative Manager and Product Innovation Solutions Manager at a Fortune 25 corporation. In addition to performing stand-up (100+ shows in venues around the country) and improv comedy (300+ shows), Andrew loves drinking milkshakes and is obsessed with the color orange.
What Makes Us Tick (and Tickle): How to Read People and Their (Personality) Styles: Joan Hebert. This program is sure to be a fun, involving, and energizing chance to improve your “people literacy” skills (knowing how to “read” people). You will discover distinctive personality styles and the keys to connecting better with styles different than your own. By understanding the benefits and limitations of each style, you will become a more flexible and effective communicator with your family, friends, boss, co-workers, students, patients, and customers (taking the “cuss” out of customer service).

Joan Hebert, MBA, MS, principal of Hebert Performance Training since 1997, specializes in customer service, presentation skills, sales, teams, leadership, and communication training for corporations, government agencies, schools, and non-profit organizations throughout the U.S. Described as “energetic, humorous, captivating, and down to earth,” Joan has been a back-by-popular-demand speaker at many ASTD and SHRM conferences. She draws on her 16 years experience with AT&T as an award-winning #1 nationally ranked master trainer, internal management consultant, and assistant marketing director.

Noon-1:30 PM Laughing, Learning Lunch Together, Bookstore Open, Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions (see page 21)

1:30-2:45 PM Concurrent Sessions: Round Two: Please indicate on the registration form on page 23 your first choice to attend from the following 6 sessions:

A Candid Look at You and Your Organization: Peter Funt (see bio & photo on page 15). Using the hilarious Candid Camera collection to bring his points to life, Peter will offer insights on people and a wide spectrum of professions and organizations. This laughter-provoking, eye-opening, mind-stretching session will illustrate such topics as: dealing with authority, group pressure, body language, and finding humor in life’s little frustrations. “Even though most of us have never met,” says Peter, “I’ve been studying you for years—how you act under stress, how you solve a problem, how you make a first impression—it’s all part of The Candid You.” You’ll pick up FUNT-damental truths for improving communication and productivity in your organization.

Humor and Healthcare Reform: Injecting Humor to Increase Patient Satisfaction: David Weiland, M.D. (see bio & photo on page 16). With healthcare reforms, “patient satisfaction” is increasingly a key factor in measuring the quality of patient care. This session will provide insights on: new evidence-based research on the salutary effect of therapeutic humor in pain management, how humor can improve communication between the healthcare professional and the patient, humor’s potentially positive effect on the patient’s perception of care, the role of humor in palliative care, and clinical applications of humor to enhance empathy and promote “bedside manner.” In short, you’ll receive a HUMORx for encouraging quality healthcare—for both patients and caregivers.

Write On!: Terrific Tricks of the Trade to Tickle Funny Bones… with Your Writing: Jeff Zaslow (see bio & photo on page 16). Here is a unique opportunity to learn some laughter-inviting secrets from this #1 international and #1 New York Times best-selling author whose TV appearances have included The Tonight Show, Oprah, Larry King Live, 60 Minutes, The Today Show, and Good Morning America. Drawing from his prolific writing career, Jeff will share insights and practical tips on how to write with both heart and humor, how to find humor in even the toughest stories, and why humor is an essential ingredient of good storytelling.

The Bounce-Back Factor: Celebrating Your Successes by Creatively Turning Obstacles into Opportunities: Jermaine Davis. Have you ever wondered why bad things sometimes happen to good people? Are you running your life…or is your life running you? Do you ever feel overwhelmed and under-appreciated? If you can use a little recharging, rekindling, and renewing of your body, mind, and spirit…this inspirational and insightful session is for you. Get ready to laugh and have fun as you learn: real life strategies that work in real life situations; practical ideas to overcome and rise above adversity; tangible tips to maintain a positive attitude when things aren’t going so well; and powerful strategies you can implement immediately to help you bounce back from current or future life or work challenges.
Jermaine Davis is an international speaker who presents at many of America's leading organizations. He is the author of ten books, including Get Up Off Your Butt & Do It NOW and Leading with Greatness. Jermaine was raised in a single parent home in Chicago. After the unfortunate loss of six family members to violent deaths, he began studying motivational principles and success strategies and enrolled in college to change the direction of his life. In fact, Jermaine is currently pursuing a Doctorate in Organizational Leadership and Communication. Along the way, he received the prestigious College Instructor of the Year Award. Jermaine is also a documentary filmmaker who, most importantly, still loves to eat his grandmother's homemade Mac and Cheese!

11 Painless Icebreakers, Openers, and Closers: Accelerating Learning, Linking, and Laughing: Dr. Jim Cain (see bio & photo on page 17). If you want to awaken somniferous classrooms or bored meetings, you'll find this session to be a gold mine of proven, potent, playful, and powerful processes and wonderful warm-up and wake-up calls to make learning (and learners and participants) come alive! You'll be traveling at 100 miles per hour as you experience and expand your repertoire of terrific, tried-and-true tools and team-building techniques to break the ice, change the pace, pick up the pace, establish cooperative learning environments and teams (linking), and leave 'em laughing.

12 Can I Say That at Work?: The Secret to Having Humor Work for You: Tim Gard (see bio & photo on page 21). Positive humor at work can be a real ice-breaker; negative humor can be an ice-maker. Hannesed positively, good humor can be a strategic skill in promoting communication, building morale, reducing stress, and dealing with the challenges of an ever-changing workplace. However, bad humor will not only damage morale and communication, it can also result in complaints, civil rights violations, employee dismissal, and lawsuits. In this laughter-filled and thought-filled session, you'll discover why funny does not always equal appropriate… along with tips to protect staff, customers, clients, patients, and students from negative humor. In short, you'll learn easy and practical guidelines to always make “the farce” be with you (and not against you) at work.

2:45-3:15 PM You Deserve a (Lemons into Lemonade) Break Today
3:00-6:00 PM HUMORetreat Play Time and Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions: In addition to the optional sessions listed on page 21, here's a great chance to enjoy and savor scenic Silver Bay and lots of laughter-liberating activities (see page 12).

5:30-7:30 PM The Laugh Supper… Together with More Opportunities to Build Our Comedic, Creative, Caring Community
7:30-9:00 PM Key Notes: Keeping Joy in Your Journey: Jana Stanfield. Twenty-one years ago, when Jana could not get a record company to support her dream of making “music with meaning,” she did the next best thing: she started her own Relatively Famous Records company, which is now one of the most successful businesses of its kind. This multidimensional keynote concert weaves laughter, wisdom, and Jana's magical, meaningful, moving, amusing music into an experience that will leave you feeling upbeat and uplifted with elevated endorphins. Jana will inspire you to refresh, renew, and reconnect to your passion, purpose, and joy as an explorer on your journey of a lifetime. Along the way, she will encourage you to see that a sense of humor will be an important traveling companion for you to empower yourself to dream your dreams… and to make them happen as you laugh more and stress less.

Jana Stanfield, CSP, our conference troubadour, is an internationally recognized, award-winning recording artist, transformational speaker, humorist, and multi-platinum songwriter. She has shared stages with notables ranging from Kenny Loggins and the Dixie Chicks to Lily Tomlin and Deepak Chopra. Her fun-of-a-kind performances generate standing ovations on world-famous stages from Nashville's Grand Ole Opry to New York's Carnegie Hall. A five-million-selling songwriter, you have heard Jana's compositions, sung by such artists as Reba McIntyre and Andy Williams, on radio stations coast to coast… and on popular TV programs, including Oprah, Entertainment Tonight, and 20/20. Known as "The Queen of Heavy Mental," Jana describes her music as "psychotherapy you can dance to." Showing the universality of her musical medium and message, Jana's soaring vocals, acoustic arrangements, and meaningful lyrics have been heard all over the world.

9:00-11:00 PM Saturday Night Alive Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions (see page 21): CD-signing with Jana and book-signing with Jeff Zaslow. Also, join in a back-by-popular demand Square Dance called by Stan Burdick for anyone (especially beginners) who would like to be “Dancing Under the Stars.”
SUNDAY, JUNE 3, 2012

7:00-8:00 AM  Optional Laugh & Learn Sessions (see page 21)

7:30-9:00 AM  Breakfast

9:00-10:15 AM  Concurrent Sessions: Round Three: Please indicate on the registration form on page 23 your first choice to attend from the following 6 sessions:

13  Using the ABC’s and Humor to Defuse Difficult People and Situations: Margie Ingram (see bio & photo on pages 2 and 6). Have you ever faced a “difficult person” or been in a group with “difficult people”? Have you ever been a “difficult person” yourself (of course not! 😁)? This fun-filled, practical, interactive program will teach you a simple 3-step (AA-BB-CC) method to effectively interrupt difficult behaviors and efficiently move toward resolution of challenging situations. You will learn an array of potentially positive responses to turn these negative situations around. Rather than moving “against” the difficult person, you will learn how to move “with” the person toward satisfactory problem-solving. In short, you’ll learn easy ways to keep your wit and wits about you in dealing with difficult people.

14  What’s the Story?: Once Upon a Time, There Was a Storytelling Workshop: Kat Koppett (see bio & photo on page 17). The I’s have it: storytelling is increasingly touted as an important, impactful, and insightful educational and business tool. In the age of instant messaging, Facebooking, and tweeting, we need more than ever to recapture the human touch and the magic of storytelling to communicate with charisma. How do you get your message across to your boss, colleagues, customers, students, clients, patients, family and friends (especially if it requires more than 140 characters)? Come to this hands-on improv session to find out how to: command focus, create compelling stories, hone your storytelling skills, match your message and style to your audience, and see how stories can magically capture attention and increase retention.

15  The 3 R’s: Relaxing, Recreating, and Re-creating Yourself with Humor: The Power of Strategic Disengagement: Andrew Tarvin (see bio & photo on page 17). Taking a break, sharpening the saw, strategically disengaging—they all mean the same thing and it’s something we don’t do enough of: allowing ourselves to recharge to come back more energized and productive. In this session, you’ll learn about the importance of the 3 R’s and how working less can actually mean accomplishing more. Drawing from time-tested research and practices, you’ll address such topics as Pareto’s Principle, Parkinson’s Law, and the Pomodoro Technique. By the end of the program, you’ll understand why you need to recharge your batteries—and how to effectively do it. You deserve a break today… and every day!

16  Presenting with Pizzazz: Exceptional Teaching and Training Tips and Techniques: Joan Hebert (see bio & photo on page 18). Here’s a great opportunity for you to develop your confidence and competence in speaking, teaching, training, and presenting. You’ll learn tricks of the trade to: get prepared, present with ease and energy, and deliver potent presentations. You’ll also leave with 20+ simple yet powerful techniques to keep audiences and learners involved…and loving every minute of it. This fun and lively session will offer ideas on learning strategies, how to avoid death by PowerPoint, and how to move people in your classes or programs from a “ho hum” mentality to an “Aha!” attitude.

17  How to Do More with Less: Motivating and Energizing Your People and Your Organization from the Inside Out: Jermaine Davis (see bio & photo on page 19). We all know that in the past few years, the national and global economies have not been a laughing matter. Will your organization survive or thrive? Will your organization go from good to great or from bad to worse? How do you plan on doing more with less? This interactive and informative workshop will teach leaders and employees how to: develop a healthy and positive S.R.S. (Stress Response Style), sustain personal/professional motivation using the T.A.G.S. Philosophy (Talents Abilities Gifts Skills), leverage team synergy to achieve organizational goals, achieve priorities by tapping the “Power of the 168” time management system, and increase employee engagement and team morale using the R.A.P. approach.

18  I’m Not Lost, I’m Exploring: An Adventurer’s Guide to Challenging and Creating Change: Jana Stanfield (see bio & photo on page 19). With change accelerating all around us, do you ever feel like you’re working with no map or GPS on an ever-changing terrain? Jana’s unique interactive tapestry of music, message, and mirth will... show you that you're exactly where you need to be on your journey—learning what you need to learn and making the difference that only you can make. This refreshing, renewing, encouraging, experiential session full of fun and laughter will focus on how to: creatively turn life's detours into opportunities for adventure; increase enthusiasm through the much-needed gift of laughter; and build greatness every day through your own personal GPS (Goals Passion Smiles).

10:15-10:45 AM You Deserve a Coffee, Juice, and Tea-Hee Break Today

10:45-Noon Keynote: Last Laughs & Learning That Lasts: Developing A Comic Vision®: Tim Gard. This conference comes full circle—starting on Friday with a Candid Camera look at life. Now, Tim will leave you in stitches as he encourages you to keep your perspective and keep on truckin’ when you leave this conference by seeing reality and sharing the fun of it with laughter and good humor! Portraying the daily (and often overwhelming) challenges found in these hectic times, Tim offers his powerfully humorous approach to stress-diffusion, proven effective both personally and on-the-job. Re-awaken your fancy for fun as you enjoy Tim’s side-splitting stories, learn how to use his unique Stress Buster Tools, and discover a new way to look at life…with your own Comic Vision!

Tim Gard, CSP, CPAE, is a drop-dead funny, laugh-out-loud humorist who provides a rejuvenating and immediately applicable message that always touches and ticks audiences. As a leading authority in stress reduction through humor, Tim has delivered thousands of unique experiences for an impressive list of public and private sector clients from Bangkok to Boston, from Singapore to Sioux City, and from Texas to Tasmania. Tim is a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP), the highest earned certification of the National Speakers Association and a CPAE (Council of Peers Award of Excellence) recipient. He was inducted into the Speaker Hall of Fame, an elite honor (Tim is in the top 1% of the top 1% of speakers). Meetings and Conventions magazine tapped him as “The Best Speaker Heard or Used.” He is the perfect presenter to “leave ‘em laughing.”

The Laughs Round-Up: Joel Goodman and Jana Stanfield. This closing segment will include surprises and a special song from Jana to help you make your mirthful memories last a laughtime!

Noon-1:30 PM Lunch (either in the dining hall or a bag-lunch-to-go if you need to hit the road)

LOCATION, TRANSPORTATION & LODGING

What better place to hold a program on “The Positive Power of Humor and Creativity” than the inspiring Silver Bay Conference Center on magnificent Lake George (see www.SilverBay.org as well as page 12 for a taste of what Silver Bay has to offer)!

If you are flying, the Albany, NY and Burlington, VT Airports are most convenient. Discounted (up to 10%) airfares are available from selected airlines. Southwest also serves Albany and Jet Blue flies into Burlington. Discounted car rentals through Avis, Hertz, and Budget are also available. To request the “Conference Travel Discounts Info Sheet,” email Travel@HumorProject.com with “Conference Travel Discounts” in the Subject Line or call us at 518-587-8770.

For your convenience, Silver Bay Conference Center is more than happy to help you with your ground transportation needs. They will be providing a reasonably-priced, reserved-seat shuttle service from the Albany Airport on Thursday, May 31 (3:15PM and 7:30PM) and Friday, June 1 (12:30PM and 4:30PM). The shuttle will leave Silver Bay on Sunday, June 3 at 12:15PM for the 90-minute return trip to the Albany Airport. Also, Silver Bay is offering free pick-up at Ticonderoga Amtrak Station at 1:30 PM on May 31 and June 1 and a return trip Sunday, June 3 leaving Silver Bay at 1:30 PM. You can reserve a seat on these shuttles when you make your room reservation with Silver Bay.

Since Silver Bay and flights fill quickly, we strongly recommend early registration for this year’s program (as you’ll see on the next page, you’ll also save money).
